#CMAODOCS: Dr. Enrique Gonzalez-Mendez

“ I am passionate about honoring my patients' social, cultural, linguistic and spiritual needs. In Latin America, we think with magic realism. That is part of how we conduct our lives, and the cure for some ailments is to talk with a healer and establish a relationship to determine what is going on. If we don't address cultural beliefs, a patient may be less willing to accept the medical provider's follow a prescribed treatment. My passion is working to reach the underserved, especially Latin Americans and Mexicans, and make them feel better. My hope is to bring healing, and if there is no cure, to bring hope.”
